"Your worship," said the prisoner, "I plead guilty, but it's my first time in court for any offense, and I'm going to ask you to forgive me. I have a shattered hand and I expect to go back to work in a few days, your worship, I'm very sorry for my conduct and ask your forgiveness."

"What's the matter with your hand?" the court asked.

"It was shattered while I was at work."

"And is that the reason you were not at work?"

"Yes, sir."

es, sir." His personal bonds were taken.

Nothing to Say. John Davis, colored, was next asked to stand up and be introduced. It was charged that he was guilty of a violation of the vagrancy law. "He's been loading about the streets and "He's been loading about the streets and sleeping in a stable," was the policeman's report. "The owner of the stable," he added, "has been complaining about strangers occupying his building." "Well, John," said Judge Scott, "what have you to say about this?" "Nothing," he responded.

The assessment was $10, with sixty days in the workhouse as the equivalent.

Diminutive Specimen. George Tucker, a small colored boy, who recently spent some time on the farm, was present because he had broken a show window. "I saw him throw the stone," said an officer. "The window, I was told, was worth $60, and the boy said he broke it because the man who keεps the store owed him 15 "What is the maximum penalty?" the

The addresses of the afternoon were on the subject of the relation of the association to the world-wide movement. "The Association in Unchristian Lands" was spoken of by Dr. Merrill E. Gates, ex-president of Amherst College. Mr. Miles M. Sband, one of the delegates to the recent Y. M. C. A. conference on missionary work in New York city, spoke of the policies of ne association toward foreign work, and urged participation in the missionary ef-forts on the part of the Washington association.

Mr. A. J. Halford, chairman of the asso ciation's missionary committee, presented the plans which have been made for the the plans which have been made for the missionary department, which include the support of a secretary in the foreign field, the organization of a missionary study club, and the holding of missionary study club, and the holding of missionary meetings at stated periods. At the conclusion of Mr. Halford's address the question of the support of the missionary secretary for 1900 was taken up, and it was decided to undertake the work. Subscriptions to a total fund of $2.000, necessary for the purpose, were tendered, over half the amount necessary being pledged in a few minutes. The association will notify the international committee in New York of its action, and as soon as possible a secretary will be sent to one of the places now in need of his work.

The importance of the foreign work was mentioned by several of the speakers, who called attention to the fact that there are now opportunities open to the Y. M. C. A. In all the university centers in India, China, Japan, and other non-Christian lands. The missionaries of all denominations have united in requesting the establishment of associations, and under these conditions the International committee in New York has felt it necessary to call upon the city associations throughout the country to aid in supplying the demand.

FRANK MAYO'S SPREE.

Drives Wife and Child Away and Lands in Station.

Policeman Bean of the sixth precinct had an exciting chase through Chew's alley about 2 o'clock vesterday morning in pursuit of a colored man named Frank Mayo, who had put his wife and son out of the house. Laura Mayo, the wife, and her little son, who is a deaf mute, entered the station and asked for assistance. The woman was badly frightened, and the boy's mouth was cut, it is alleged, by his father

Although the two had been forced to eave the house in a hurry, the boy stopped long enough to get his pets, a dog and a goat. He feared if the dumb beasts were left there they, too, might get what his father had given him.

Mrs. Mayo was satisfied that her husband had left the house, but fearing he was watching for her she asked Policeman Ecan to accompany her to the house and afford her protection while she got clothing accomplant of the protection of the control o nough to protect her from the cold.
